FRANCO PLANS RESUME HOSTILITIES

Generous Amnesty Offered

BURGOS, Spain, March 6.—General Franco's high command, today, was reported intensifying plans for resumption of hostilities after a final appeal for unconditional surrender. Insurgent spokesman declared that military victory would be more satisfactory than a negotiated peace as it would remove the necessity of negotiation with Republicans.

An appeal for surrender was broadcast last night.

"Milicianos!" the announcer said, "you have lost one war, the crushing victory in Catalonia, the stubborn of this. Only the criminal will of Negrín and Del Vayo (Premier Juan Negrín and Foreign Minister) who follow the orders of Del Vayo), in the pay of Russia, can still prolong this useless spilling of blood."

A "generous amnesty" was offered to all those who have committed no crime.

MADRID, March 6.—A defense council decided to demand an "honorable peace or fight to the death," today, replaced after a bloodless coup the regime of Premier Juan Negrín, who had been forced to resign at the end" in the Spanish Civil War.

General Segismundo Casado, military governor of Madrid, who has been in command since the broadcast that "The die is cast. We shall save ourselves or sink together. Our struggle will not end until independence is assured."

A manifesto indicated Negrín had been removed from power but he and his ministers were. General Casado early today telephoned General José Millán-Astray, chief of staff of air, land and sea forces in central Spain—the one-fourth of continental Spain yet controlled by Nationalist General Franco.

Afterwards Casado said, "We shall receive Madrid with enthusiasm and respect." General Millán-Astray had told him he was joining the national defense movement and was starting immediately from Madrid for some place in the central zone.

The revolt against Negrín began

In his resolution, Mr. Rogers estimates 40 per cent of all the wealth produced in Manitoba is exported to other provinces or outside the Dominion. He adds that the special tax would not be imposed unless such wealth may contribute to the maintenance of the public services of the province.

Students At Varsity May Be Isolated

All Social Functions Cancelled Due Outbreak Of Scarlet Fever

All social functions at the University of Alberta have been cancelled for the present, effective Monday, for student residences, where 500 are living, might be infected due to an outbreak of scarlet fever.

At present there are 12 cases of scarlet fever, several of whom are students from the residence of the university's most recent student's residence. Most of these are at the Edmonton Hospital.

Eight students are under doctor's care, and it is hoped that they do not develop the disease or be carriers.

Four of the present cases were reported over the weekend by officials of the university.

Dr. W. A. R. Kerr, president of the university, said the situation was "not too bad" but was being watched, but made no statement as to possibility of quarantine of residences.

Setters From Sudetenland

Supplied by the Czechoslovak Government with money to establish themselves and assure they will not become public charges, several hundred refugee families from the Sudeten area are to be admitted into Canada, and are expected to locate on land in northern Saskatchewan and in the Peace River district of Alberta or British Columbia.

The total number of persons, it is said, will not exceed three thousand, indicating six to eight hundred families. The placing of this limited number of new settlers on raw land could have no serious effect in enlarging the volume of wheat and other agricultural products which are already produced in surplus quantity in Canada, and will hardly be objected to in any quarter on the economic grounds.

Further good news for the Canadian farmer is that President Roosevelt has allocated to Canada $6.2 per cent of the world quota for imports of cattle into the United States. This means that of five cattle to be admitted into that country, Canada will be entitled to ship four. The quota for Canada is 51,720 head per quarter, while only 2,820 head are permitted from all other countries. During January 25,745 head were shipped from Canada, about completing the quota for the first quarter of the calendar year.

January imports from the United States showed a drop of 11 per cent, totalling $28,000,000, about $8,000,000 less than Canadian exports to that country. Imports from Britain were down 19 per cent. The Canadian manufacturer and industrial worker cannot claim that they are losing what the farmers and other producers gain.

tell the world what it ought to know. And for another there is the provincial legislature, whose members are often with us and positively bubble over with instruction.

Exports Up; Imports Down

In the United States bought 75 per cent more goods in Canada during January than they did in January a year ago. That promises well for Canadian farmers and manufacturers when the new trade agreement has been in force long enough for business to get organized on the new basis. It affords strong evidence that there is a market in the United States which Canadian producers will be able to supply under the reduced tariff but which they have not hitherto been able to reach.

The January showing is the more welcome because exports to Britain during the month dropped 23 per cent. If the claim is made that Canada merely changed a market in Britain for a market in the United States, the figures show the Dominion is $8,000,000 ahead by doing so on the monthly return.

Editorial Notes

Under the Manitoba farm settlement scheme 1662 families have been taken off the border-line, and placed on land; of whom 424 are now self-supporting. The figures are decidedly encouraging as to the possibilities of land-settlement as one way to deal with unemployment, the more encouraging because conditions for success on the farm have not been normally favorable for many years.

The Government of Saskatchewan is winding up the year with a deficit of only $195,858. That, too, is the undoubted time. For a province whose revenue has been cut down for many years by drought, in addition to the adverse conditions from which all other provinces have suffered, the record is remarkable. It helps to explain why the voters of Saskatchewan last summer returned the Government by a majority better than two to one.

The Sequel

Much is being made currently of the 81-year-old man who has just returned to his home in the United States Midwest, tired and broke. He was seven years ago, after a lifetime of work, he retired. But a short time ago he decided to have one more fling. He took from the bank $4,000 he had saved.

He went on a fine trip to Europe—seeing Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium and France.

"Boy!" he was quoted in the newspaper when he returned. "I've been everywhere and seen everything."

He had taken his hard-won savings and he had a splendid time, and he didn't regret it in the least even if he returned penniless.

Most people who read the story smiled sympathetically. The old fellow deserved his good time, but he had run himself into financial difficulties of declining years of benefit.

It must be cruel to the feelings of a gentle Nazi, who feel aggrieved that their peaceful intentions should be misunderstood. A wireless despatch from Berlin

The Passing Show

By J. R. CONFER

Has anything ever hurt you more than to do a good deed and have it misinterpreted? You? I? It happens every time. That's why I can sympathize with those German Nazis who feel aggrieved that their peaceful intentions should be misunderstood. A wireless despatch from Berlin

THE PANGS OF MISUNDERSTANDING "Britain's rearmament program is viewed in official quarters here as a sad commentary on that misguided policy that it was thought had been followed in Munich," is an apparent attempt to undermine that confidence.

This is very sad indeed; so sad that the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung expresses brotherly sympathy with British taxpayers, while the Lokal-Anzeiger declares that the military programs of the democracies are "dramatically opposed to the peaceful phrase" they utter.

It must be cruel to the feelings of a gentle Nazi, who feel aggrieved that their peaceful intentions should be misunderstood.

But there's a little sequel to this little story that doesn't appear in the news stories to me.

The sequel will read something like this: "Good on relief and lives out his days at the expense of those who didn't go to Europe!" —Calgary Albertan.

Plus XII, and International Affairs

London: British newspapers, commenting on the election of Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli to the Papacy, speculate on its effect on the political affairs of the world.

"He can be little else," said the diplomatic correspondent for the Manchester Guardian (Liberal), "that the election will cause the gravest misgivings in Berlin, where it was ardently desired the new Pope should be as innocent of politics as possible. The offensive attitude of the Catholic Church, which has so long been in opposition to Germany, will hardly be made easier by the result of the election."

"The exceptional anomalies of the times," said the Yorkshire Post (Conservative), "are reflected in the exceptional circumstances of the election. It has been highly unusual that the papal secretary of state should succeed to the papacy."

"The exceptional anomalies of the times," said the Yorkshire Post (Conservative), "are reflected in the exceptional circumstances of the election. It has been highly unusual that the papal secretary of state should succeed to the papacy."

The Times (Independent) said the election of Cardinal Pacelli may have proved to be the best news of the year. In any case, it continued, "elected he has been, and his choice of the name under which he will rule his church and deliver his messages to his members suggests that many of the large areas in and around the Papal Curia will be under his direction."

Cardinal Pacelli has condemned philosophies "based on the superstition of blood or pride of race," and the recollection of this pronouncement is still fresh in mind. Hitler, where the Nazi party had adjusted himself to things as they are and fears change lest it upset his his security."

Now the Patto di ferro government is actuated by any political motives in putting this Tory riding to a painful death—no more than the present Alberta government in proposing to reduce the representation from the cities.

Royal Yacht Humble
Concrete Carrier
These Past 40 Years

By THOMAS WALMING

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
OTTAWA, March 6.—The Royal yacht "Victoria and Albert" is to be scrapped. In the good Queen's palace gardens, forty years ago, a man built himself a splendid yacht. The Kaiser of Germany, not to be outdone, also built him a Royal yacht.

Queen Victoria summoned her Prime Minister and talked to him about royal yachts. She mentioned the Tsar's yacht. She added a word or two about the Kaiser's craft.

The good Queen asked "concernant la dignité de l'empereur que devrait être la son bateau à voile." The Earl of Liverpool replied that she should not care.

PRIMER AGREED

The Prime Minister agreed.

The Earl had a yacht. The Kaiser had a yacht. The Queen Empress had a yacht.

Lord Liverpool was ready in reality a poor, humble concrete carrier.

The Queen's yacht never got over the fact that she had been refused permission to set foot aboard the craft.

The "Victoria and Albert" was the boat that the Earl had built. It was concerned but to the dear Queen she was nothing but a dead queen.

In later years other British kings and queens were added to the "Victoria and Albert." Now she is to be scrapped.

The new Royal yacht will not be built from second hand plans.

FAIR

Every available hour throughout the Flin Flon district is being pressed into service for the extended fishing season which opened March 1. Except when the snow is too deep motor vehicles are used for going to and from the nets on the lake, but the dogsleds and sleds are the only means of travel that can be used.

STETTER

After a long illness Thomas W. Smith for some years a resident of Stettler, died at his home in the liberal district.

He came to Canada in 1911 and was born in Oregon, Indiana in 1888.

The son of the 25-year-old pilot was found, badly broken, about 60 feet from the stable. The plane was flying low over the fields and adjoining fields. Two guns from the machine were hurled a quarter mile north of here in a fog and darkness. The $4000.00 Seversky plane was flying at 100 miles per hour when it hit the ground.

Moors, T. A., Ball, F. H. Dunton and F. S. Day were added to the board of directors.

ments and quantities were converted into English measurement. The yacht was built.

The day she was launched was a gale day.

PERFORMED CEREMONY

Her Gracious Majesty performed the launching ceremony and sent the ship on her way to the sea.

What To Do

What is the proper procedure in the use of service plates? Is serving refreshments to guests in the living room, who should be served first? Is it better to have one older woman guest should be served first, but my problem is should you go to the person next to the other woman guest or should you go to the person next to the first man—and then on around the room? In other words, are all the women present served first, or do you pass the plates around starting at one side of the room and then the men? This causes too much confusion.

Answer—A service plate is part of the tableware decoration which the host finds, the hostess serves dinner and which is not removed until the main course is served. Any host who wants to serve a meal should be prepared to place a plate on the service plate. The idea of a guest being asked to sit before a bare space of tabletop. After the woman guest of honor is served refreshments, she should be seated next to her right and so on consecutively around the room. No host should be seated at the same side first and then the men. This causes too much confusion.

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

By Louise Holmes

CAST OF CHARACTERS

SUSIE LAMBERT—She served Susie's hair and was surprised when she was told that Susie's hair was not the same color as the young man, but he was admiring her.

JEFF TREMAYNE—He liked Susie's hair as beautiful as she wanted to be.

Yesterday, Susie's dream came true when she saw Dick Tremayne, the cheerleader leader, introduce her to the new cheerleaders.

If you decide against dying your hair, you are not the only ones. If you decide that snowy locks are not for you—not yet anyway.

Applause! If you decide to dye at once. If you decide against dying make a resolution to give your hair a rest. You can't do it forever. White streaks can be charming. But yellowish-white can never be.

SECRET EXACT MATCH

For the first dye job at least go to a reputable shop and put yourself in the hands of a colouring expert. Do not let anyone persuade you to use a pre-dyed garment. The exact shade of the color of your hair. The dye used should exactly the color of the hair which has been dyed. If your hair is dyed, look just as it did before it was dyed. Then, it should be brown after dyeing—not red or black or blonde brown.

Never often. Often will it re-colored. How often depends on how fast your hair grows. In one month, hair grows about one centimeter from the scalp far enough to show you'll have to have it again. Go around with gray streaks on the scalp and hairy color from the streaks to the roots.

Even though you intend to care for your hair yourself, you had better be in the initial dying done by a professional. Then have him teach you how to apply it.

The most often will it be dyed.

Basketball

Basketball players are unfortunately the keep their balls in their hair until it falls out. Someone should tell them there is a hole in the basket.

A basketball is the only kid passing the ball. He knows that if he holds it, he'll have to shoot, and everyone will see he isn't such a flawless shooter!

Curious World

—By William Ferguson

Just as furs are often sold under deceiving names, so is gold. "Twinkie Gold" may mean molybdenum, which is an alloy of copper and zinc. "Mosaic gold" contains no gold whatever, and is a combination of zinc and tin. "Tin-tin" and "Pinch-Back Gold" are made by melting zinc in certain proportions, and the zinc takes on a color nearly like gold. As pure gold is too soft for most purposes, it is usually melted up with some other metal to give it hardness.

Temperature inside the earth's so-called "frigid zones" sometimes rises to 80 degrees.

No Test Yet
The Bare Fist
Barker Leaves

CALGARY JIMMIES had little hope of making any impression on the E.A.C. in the provincial title series, but they had a hankering to see just how good the Edmonton outfit actually was—and they are quite satisfied that the Clubmen are good—too good for them, at least.

To be perfectly frank, the Jimmies were not much of a test for the E.A.C. They were a much lighter and younger club and in no way the sort of high-powered machine that you have to have there days to go places in junior playoff hockey.

For this reason you can't tell whether or not the E.A.C. has eliminated its tendency towards a rough and robust style of hockey that visiting whistlers-takers are forced to play. Saturday night's touring hero was Tom Buley and Kevan, both of whom proved to be as well-conditioned for the sake of making the game interesting. The E.A.C. were never under pressure Saturday and their tempers were never put under any particular strain.

On paper the E.A.C. seems to have everything a junior outfit needs, but sometimes they get out on the ice they give you cold chills up and down the spine.

Oxonian Favors Bare Fists

BARKER thundered at the goes that was spilt and finally got padded gloves tied on the fighters' fists. Now Bill Clouston, captain of the Oxford University boxing team in 1938-39, comes forward with a suggestion that maybe the padded mitts should be dispensed with and the boxers go back to the old bare knuckle days again.

Clouston argues that leather gloves, while the bantam and schmoes use them, are useless weapons—much more than bare knuckles. He contends that six-inch gloves do not soften a blow in any way, but actually make it harder than could be struck with the bare fist.

In support of his radical suggestion, the Oxford boxer points to the fact that knuckles were rare in the old bare knuckle days. He also declares it is almost impossible to knock a man out by hitting him with your bare fists—even if you have a proven kayak wallop. Furthermore, Clouston argues that the rather staggering number of punch-drunk or slap-happy fighters is the result of using padded gloves.

Tom Buley is going to Clouston's argument. I've been won and many goaded to do so, but I still believe that I must protect the bare fist landing on my face. The one drawback of taking a bare knuckle on the 1938 is it will leave a welt and gape often break the skin. Neither speed nor road conditions seem to dull his interest in watching the countryside. The bantams are bound to have to save the fighter from breaking bones in his hand and shoulder, even though it also allows him to hold on to them so he could waltz.

However, there is another angle that Clouston apparently has taken into consideration and that is that the kayak punch is a comparatively recent development. I don't mean that the old-timers didn't have knockout power, for many of them had. However, they weren't trained to do it. That's why the kayak punch was born, says Louis. The boxers and they body-punched, and if that's the case, all they could do was a knockout, why, that was all there was. Nowadays fighters in the heavier divisions keep their right cocked and seldom let go until they get a chance to fire it at the point of the chin or other vital spot. It is this constant hammering at the head that eventually makes a fighter slap-happy, or plain goofy as some of the cruiser bags say.

Eddie Packs His Perculator

EDWARD Bunker takes off from Edmonton for another winter at the wrestling and motor bike riding games in England. Eddie, who learned his wrestling in Edmonton under the guidance of Mike Catches, resumed home last fall after over a year of riding and wrestling in the British Isles and most of the European countries. Now he's away again. This trip he plans to devote most of his time to gallivanting his racing bike around England and Europe. Tentative plans even call for an Australian next winter.

Eddie likes the British Isles. The only fault he found with them was that no one seems to know how to make a good cup of coffee. He tried all over London to buy a percolator to brew his own java, but nobody seemed even to know what a percolator was. He's going prepared this trip. In his trunk is a brand new percolator and a supply of his favorite coffee.

PARLIAMENT ENTERS BUSY WEEK TODAY

Debate On Monetary Re-form Will Be Resumed By Members

OTTAWA, March 6.—Parliament entered its busy week today. This was the last day reserved to private members in the commons, and the lower house planned to clean up the order paper by passing through several of its members' resolutions. Tomorrow the Senate resumes sittings after a recess of a couple of weeks.

The common will be the brunt of the week's heavy program. The radio committee tomorrow continues radio hearings on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation affairs. Leonard W. Brookington of Winnipeg chairman of the board of governors was expected to present his evidence, possibly detailing financial aspects of the corporation. On Friday the Senate monetary committee will hold a preliminary meeting before investigating the Bren money-giving scandals.

MONETARY REFORM

In the house itself the main item of business will be resumption of the debate on monetary reform. The bill introduced by Mr. Dunning in the next general elections campaign. The impromptu forum on the subject which came about when Hon. Charles Dunning, minister of finance, moved the house into committee the whole to study his resulting giving power and the power to borrow up to $50,000,000 as required to meet maturing obligations and unforeseen expenditures.

The Social Credit group moved to have the bill referred to a committee bearing bonds only sold to meet commitments outside of Canada and the provinces for commitments Canada can be provided by the Bank of Canada issuing new currency.

RULED OUT OF ORDER

The amendment was ruled out of order, but Mr. Dunning hoped it would be redefined and submitted again.

Monetary reform was also expected to figure prominently in deliberations of the banking and commerce committee. The chief witnesses will be Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, and Mr. Dunning who will depend on the Committee to rule the bill in the week in the form of the supplemental report.

Reports were that they might intend to spread public works program which might involve spending sums estimated as high as $100,000,000.

TRADITION IS KEPT INTACT
BY POSTMAN

KANSAS CITY, March 6.—That tradition must be kept, must go through," has been repeated, but the task of delivering a letter to "The most beautiful girl in Kansas City, 4736 Summit Street," gave one postman some mighty bad moments. The at-home girl was in an apartment house. The postman did some tactful investigating and found the girl was Mrs. Barker. Perusal of the letter disclosed it had been delivered to the right party.

King George May Wear His Crown On Ottawa Visit

LONDON, March 6.—Possibility the King may take his leave to Canada on the forthcoming Royal visit has aroused keen interest in Britain as well as in the Dominion.

No final decision yet has been reached, but the King might take the Imperial Crown of State and might wear it to prorogue the Canadian parliament.

Another suggestion advanced here is the King might attend parliament in full state and give assent to any acts just passed.

There is no precedent for a state progresses, but constitutional authority should be given to the King if he were to do so.

Britons fear the presence of the King at a royal opening of parliament, bringing regal robes, would be a striking illustration of the significance of the crown and the sovereign's link binding the Empire together.

31,894 Recruits Join Air Force Since Last June

LONDON, March 6.—A total of 31,894 new recruits have joined the Royal Canadian Air Force since parliament had completed its business by May 20 when Their Majesties' Silver Wedding was celebrated.

Another suggestion advanced here is the King might attend parliament in full state and give assent to any acts just passed.

The crown of state weighs not more than 19 ounces, much lighter than St. Edward's crown, which weighs nearly five pounds. The state crown was made in 1838 in Queen Victoria's name, and contains more than 6,000 precious stones, taken from older crowns.

"It is true that every one of the thousands of members of various associations throughout this province will give earnest consideration to this important question," said the King.

"We cannot expect him to act as an ordinary member of the association with his fellows and at the same time refuse to assume the obligations of the position he holds in society as one of the units of which it is composed."

"I hope he will stand against the spirit of selfish individualism which we have already discussed in the opening part of our program."

"But we should not lose sight of the responsibility this places upon the individual. He must never lose sight of the fact that he is a unit of the complete organization as an individual entity."

"He cannot expect him to act as an ordinary member of the association with his fellows and at the same time refuse to assume the obligations of the position he holds in society as one of the units of which it is composed."
